

Scrivener Publishing

PRESS RELEASE

April 2009

Scrivener Publishing is pleased to announce that they are now the exclusive distributors of Knowledge Press publications to the institutional and trade markets globally. Knowledge Press is the publication arm of Knowledge Foundation.

Based in Brookline, Massachusetts, Knowledge Foundation has been serving the scientific community for over 10 years with regard to commercialization of advanced technologies by organizing and hosting conferences. The areas they serve include fuel cells, (bio) detection technologies, battery technologies, Nanotechnology.

The Knowledge Press books are the proceedings of these conferences and they deliver the most up-to-date single-source information. For title availability and ordering please message sales@scrivenerpublishing.com.
